

MediaEdge announces new industry publication, Facility Cleaning & Maintenance

TORONTO - MediaEdge Communications is pleased to announce that it has expanded its offering of industry-leading publications targeting the commercial real estate sector. Printed six times per year and emailed six times per quarter, Facility Cleaning & Maintenance (formerly Sanitation Canada) is an invaluable resource for building service contractors and in-house facility managers.

The magazine and its digital properties provide engaging, meaningful editorial content to assist industry professionals in successfully cleaning and maintaining commercial, institutional, recreational, multi-residential and industrial facilities, inside and out.

“We are delighted to have taken over as the new publishers of Facility Cleaning & Maintenance,” said Kevin Brown, President and CEO at MediaEdge Communications.

“The magazine has an excellent track record and will complement the titles we currently offer, including Canadian Property Management, Canadian Apartment and Canadian Facility Management & Design.”

With a circulation of 7,000 print editions and 8,000 digital editions, Facility Cleaning & Maintenance targets building service contractors and in-house facility managers. Each issue will offer a sector spotlight—including retail facilities, healthcare facilities, educational facilities and an array of others.

“As a quality publication, Facility Cleaning & Maintenance is a great vehicle for manufacturers and distributors of cleaning products to communicate directly with the end-users,” said Mike Nosko, Executive Director, CSSA. “We are happy to continue to support this publication and are excited to see it grow and evolve to meet the industry’s needs.”

Facility Cleaning & Maintenance, found on REMInetwork.com, is the information source of choice for decision-makers involved in the cleaning and maintenance of all professional building types. The magazine and online property will cover industry news, tackle prominent and emerging topics of interest and provide practical advice from a wide variety of industry experts.
